

Child safety on YouTube

What's the problem?

- You may have seen news reports about inappropriate children's videos on YouTube
 - Some of these videos, at first, appear to be for children as they include cartoon characters such as Peppa Pig or characters from Disney films such as Frozen. However, later on they become violent or disturbing. One, for example, shows Peppa Pig being tortured at the dentist
 - The videos can appear in YouTube search results when children look for genuine children's videos
 - YouTube says that such videos will be age-restricted if they are reported by users, so they cannot be viewed by anyone under 18. YouTube has also been removing some of the worst videos that have hit the news headlines – but new ones appear all the time
 - This factsheet explains how you can protect your child when they're using YouTube apps or the website

What safety options are there on YouTube Kids?

- The YouTube Kids app automatically filters out inappropriate content. However, YouTube explains that it can't manually review all content, and "no automated system is perfect", so it may "miss" some videos
- To help protect your child in this app, you can set parental controls and change settings: tap the 'Lock' icon in the bottom corner of any page, enter your custom passcode (or complete the multiplication problem/read and enter the numbers that appear) and click 'Settings'. Here you can:
 - Turn the search function off, so your child can only see recommended, curated videos under each category on the home screen: toggle 'Search' to off
 - Set a timer to limit how much time your child spends on the app: select 'Timer' and use the slider bar or the plus and minus icons to set a time limit, then tap 'Start Timer'
- You can also block videos or channels you don't want your child to watch:
 - Tap the 3 dots ('more') at the top of the video, tap 'Block' and select 'Block this video' – or choose 'Block this channel' to block the whole channel associated with the video
 - Tap 'Block' again, then enter the numbers you see written on the screen, or your custom passcode
- To report inappropriate content to YouTube, use the 'flagging function': tap the 3 dots ('more') in the video player, tap 'Report', then select the reason for reporting the video (inappropriate visuals, inappropriate audio, or other)
- The app does have advertising, but YouTube says it restricts adverts that aren't child-friendly

What safety options are there on YouTube?

Turn on 'restricted mode'

This hides videos that may contain inappropriate content. To do this:

- › On the website: click on the icon in the top-right corner that represents your YouTube account; in the drop-down menu look for 'Restricted Mode'
- › In the app: tap 'Settings', then 'Restricted Mode Filtering', and turn it on

Flag inappropriate videos

If you think a video or a comment on a video is inappropriate, you can use the 'flagging feature' to prompt YouTube staff to check it and decide whether to block or restrict it:

- › Tap the 3 dots ('more') icon next to a video or comment, select report, and then select the reason for flagging

Flagged content is constantly reviewed to check for any violation of YouTube's community guidelines.

How else can I help ensure my child's safety online?

Use these tips to help you set rules for your child about accessing videos online and their online behaviour, and to help them understand the risks and what to do if something happens:

- › Try to have your child in the same room as you when they're using the internet, and discourage them from using headphones
- › Chat to your child about what online videos might not be suitable for them to watch and share
- › Regularly check the history of videos they have watched online for anything inappropriate, or create a playlist for them
- › Encourage your child to tell you if they see something they find worrying or nasty
- › If your child wants to share a video they have recorded, check they get permission from anyone who features in it before they upload it
- › Tell your child not to give out any personal information or anything that can identify them or their location, such as a school uniform, school name or street name
- › Regularly check comments made on your child's videos. Talk to your child about how they could receive nasty or negative comments from other people, and what they should do if this happens
- › If another YouTube user posts a video of your child or shares personal information without consent, you can ask for this content to be removed by using YouTube's privacy complaint process (see next page)
